VoIPon Solutions Announces Formal Distribution Relationship with Foncordiax

“plug n’go” Off-the-Shelf, Cost-effective PBX system to Widen VoIPon’s Reach in the Proprietary SMB Phone System Market

London, UK (PRWEB) November 25, 2009 – VoIPon Solutions UK Ltd., a distributor of the world’s market-leading voice over IP equipment and services to businesses, today announced that it has formalized its distribution relationship with Foncordiax, makers of the innovative “plug n’go” off-the-shelf IP PBX appliance for small businesses. The full Foncordiax line, now available for purchase on the VoIPon website, broadens VoIPon’s reach into the proprietary SMB VoIP phone system space.

VoIPon Solutions had been piloting the Foncordiax line prior to the recent launch of the plug n’go system and is pleased to officially add it to its vast selection of products represented.

"We are very excited about formally adding the Foncordiax brand to our range and becoming an official Foncordiax distributor," said Alexis Argent, VoIPon CEO. "VoIPon's staff has extensive knowledge and understanding of all technologies involved, including the integrated Sangoma's B600 series telephony cards, so we can provide local expertise and support to our client and reseller base."

Mark Trowbridge, CEO of Foncoridiax is proud to have VoIPon on board. "VoIPon is known for delivering products that provide excellent value to their customers, and we're excited that the Foncordiax line will be well represented by a distributor of VoIPon's caliber alongside complementary market-leading products."
